Arizona May Reduce Number of Lawmakers

PHOENIX, Ariz.—(U.P.)—Citizens of this infant commonwealth are busy themselves with a brand of tax reform that may have reverberations throughout the nation.

On the theory that governmental economy begins at home, a group of taxpayers has instituted a movement to cut the state legislature in half—a movement that seems headed toward success.

A number of state officials, notably Gov. George W. P. Hunt, have endorsed the plan and initiative petitions are being circulated.

Under the plan membership in the lower house of the legislature would be cut almost in half, as would the pay of legislators. The upper house would remain the same. Attache personnel would be deeply slashed. All told, the plan would have an estimated saving of $80,000 a biennium.

Legislators' pay would be cut from $15 daily to $8. Membership in the lower house would be cut from 63 to 39, on the theory that the state is too minutely districted. Among opponents to the measure were several who object on the score that the plan was not drastic enough. Another objection was that the plan fixes the number of legislators according to the gubernatorial vote cast every four years. It was pointed out that as the state grows in population the legislature will grow again to its present "Frankenstein" proportions.

No legislators have expressed themselves publicly on the measure.

Pass Ordinance Condemning Land For Street Opening

Ordinance authorizing condemnation of property for opening and extending 25th street across the Pacific Electric railroad right-of-way between Amaranth and Normandie avenue was adopted this week by the Los Angeles city council.

Eminent domain proceedings were instituted for the condemnation, as the right-of-way is needed to lay a pipe for the county sanitation system.

Purchase of an easement for right-of-way for Vermont avenue was consummated last week by the board of supervisors. The easement was purchased from M. Matsuda for $700. It lies just south of Long Beach-Redondo boulevard.

Firestone and Helms Officials watch Olympic Coach start on first trip to Olympic Village. Left to right: Mr. C. A. Turney, Mr. C. E. Traweck, Mr. R. J. Cope, Firestone officials; Mr. L. F. Kissig and Mr. F. H. Cowgill of the Helms Co., and Mr. H. D. Thompson and R. C. Smith, Firestone Executives.

Now every Olympic Athlete will have his or her favorite bread delivered fresh for every meal, by the Exclusive Olympic Bread Coach. This specially designed and equipped coach will carry the favorite breads of all nations such as, the ground rye Pumpernickel for the Swedish team, the coarse Austrian Langenbretzel, the German Kastanbrot and Pumpernickel, the half wheat and half white Dutch Pannepot, for the French the famous Painfrain, and the national English bread called Swallow. Every nation competing will have their bread delivered direct to Olympic Village from the Helms Bakeries, the Exclusive Olympic Bakers.

Mr. L. F. Kissig of the Helms Company said: "When the high honor of being appointed Bakers for Olympic Village fell to Helms after keen competition with other bakers, we at once set out to find the finest delivery equipment in the country. We naturally wanted it to have trimmings and decorations in keeping with the spirit of the Olympic Games." The coach has the flags of 24 of the competing nations flying from the top. Special Olympic designs have been painted on all sides. Newly designed "Red, White and Blue" Firestone Tires complete an Olympic Ensemble that attracts public attention wherever the coach goes. It makes an especially colorful picture as it enters Olympic Village, with the commissary headquarters its destination. "One of the most difficult problems, in properly equipping this coach, was to find tires out of the ordinary," said Mr. Kissig. "When Mr. Traweck of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company told me that 'Red, White and Blue' tires could be made for us in the Firestone Factory we were very much pleased." "Mr. Traweck tells me that these tires, while of a special design, have all the patented construction features of regular Firestone Tires, and that we need fear no unnecessary delays from tire trouble in making our trips to Olympic Village."
